Notes:

(a) The Company's ratios as at March 31, 2012 and December 31, 2012 have been restated according to the reclassified assets and liabilities resulted from discontinued business. Please see page 8 of the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets for further information. This information has also been published on the Company's website at http://www.namtai.com/quarterly/quarterly.htm in the quarterly earnings report of Q1 2013 on page 8, Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

(b) According to the definition of "Balance Sheet" under the Financial Accounting Standard Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 210-10-20, cash equivalents are short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to cash. Only investments with original maturities of three months or less when purchased qualify under that definition. Therefore, the fixed deposits maturing over three months with amount of $48.1 million, $5.2 million and $49.8 million as at March 31, 2013, March 31, 2012 and December 31, 2012 are not classified as cash on hand but require separate disclosure.

OPERATING RESULTS

Net sales in the first quarter of 2013 were $177.5 million, an increase of 102.1%, compared to the net sales of $87.8 million for the same quarter of 2012. Gross profit in the first quarter of 2013 was $7.3 million, an increase of 58.4%, compared to $4.6 million in the first quarter of last year. Gross profit margin for the first quarter of 2013 was 4.1%, 1.2% down from 5.3% in the first quarter of last year. Operating income for the first quarter of 2013 was $1.1 million, compared to an operating loss of $0.9 million in the first quarter of last year. Net income in the first quarter of 2013 was $5.0 million, or $0.11 per diluted share, compared to the net loss of $3.6 million, or loss of $0.08 per diluted share, in the first quarter of last year.

The improvement of the Company's results in the first quarter of 2013 was mainly due to three factors. First, sales revenue increased by 102.1% compared to the same period of last year, as a result of the Company's Shenzhen manufacturing facility began production of high-resolution Liquid Crystal Display Modules ("LCMs") for smartphones from September 2012. Second, the Company had $3.4 million in other and interest income, including $1.0 million reversal of legal liability provision for litigation, $0.8 million income from certain sanctioned payment for ending the legal dispute and $0.8 million interest income. Third, the Company has improved its operating and net income through streamlining its organization structure by reducing the headcount and success in its cost control. Nevertheless, the Company's gross profit decreased as a result of the Company lowering the quotation unit price due to customers' cost down requirement resulting from the weakest consumer market.

With respect to the discontinued low profit margin business, for the three months ended March 31, 2013 and March 31, 2012, the net sales were $7.7 million and $17.7 million, gross profit (loss) were $0.3 million and ($3.1) million, and operating income (loss) were $0.1 million and ($5.6) million respectively. The general and administrative expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2013 included net gain on disposal of FPC assets of $0.2 million. Please see page 7 of the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Income for further details. This information has also been published on the Company's website at http://www.namtai.com/quarterly/quarterly.htm in the quarterly earnings report of Q1 2013 on page 7, Condensed Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Income.

COMPANY OUTLOOK

The Company's revenue increased by 102.1% in the first quarter of 2013 compared to the first quarter of 2012, excluding the contribution from the discontinued business. This revenue increase was attributable to the commencement of production of high-resolution LCMs for smartphones at the Company's Shenzhen facility since September 2012. After the final evaluation on the viability of its flexible printed circuit ("FPC") business based on its performance in the third quarter of 2012, the Company has discontinued its FPC business as of the end of March 2013, which business has been generating losses since its initial production.

The Company depends on a small number of customers. In the first quarter of 2013, as a result of the weak consumer market, LCM orders placed by the Company's major customers were significantly lower than the customers' original forecast. The Company was also compelled to lower the unit sales prices in response to its customers' cost down requirements. There was also indication that orders placed by these customers could be cancelled with short notice. In response to these adverse market conditions, the management has made efforts to minimize potential losses resulting from cancellation and fluctuation of orders by its customers and decided to halt capital investment into technology platforms that cannot produce steady income streams. Unless market conditions improve to the extent that the Company has confidence to achieve a reasonable gross profit and there is no risk of customer confirmed orders being cancelled or significantly reduced or other strategic alternatives are found, the Company may have to halt its best quality LCM production operations service in both its Shenzhen and Wuxi manufacturing facilities by the end of June 2013 in order to minimize further losses and preserve cash. The Company's LCM operations comprise the core of the Company's existing businesses.

The Company is exploring all commercially viable alternatives to maintain its LCM operations, including strategic or technological alliances with complementary business operations, such as with backlight and touch key panel manufacturers. However, there is no assurance that the Company will be able to reach an agreement with these potential business partners on favorable and satisfactory terms.

In terms of the Company's other long-lived assets, the management plans to redevelop a parcel of land of approximately 530,000 sq.ft. that encompasses its existing Shenzhen facility in light of Shenzhen government's recently announced city rezoning project to convert this area into a high-end commercial district. The redeveloped land may comprise of multi-floor high-end office buildings, hotels and shopping malls with a total floor plan of apprximately 3,000,000 sq.ft for rent. The location of this parcel of land is between the Shenzhen airport, the third largest airport in China, and the Qianhai Bay Special Economic Zone. The Qianhai Bay Special Economic Zone is the result of a long-term joint collaboration and development plan between Hong Kong and Shenzhen governments and will take on significance in China's economic development through the preferential tax rates and incentives policies to be granted by the central government. Based on the development plan and other publicly available information from the PRC and Shenzhen governments, our management believes that it is likely that within the next 10 years this area will experience one of the fastest growth rates in the world. The distance between Qianhai Bay Special Economic Zone and Shenzhen airport is approximately 25 kilometers and our land is situated in the middle. The extensive incentives that the government is granting to land owner to accommodate the city rezoning plan and future tax concessions will significantly benefit the Company's interest. The management intends to engage professional experts to conduct feasibility study, evaluate commercial value and formulate plans in the best interest of the Company and will seek board approval prior to commencing the redevelopment. The Company considers its existing cash flow sufficient to finance the first phase of development that will utilize up to one quarter of the available land for a building with a total floor plan of approximately 700,000 sq.ft. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to obtain the requisite permits and approvals from relevant government authorities in relation to the redevelopment of the land, or to successfully redevelop the land.

Due to the high level of competition and weak consumer demand in the market for tablets, smartphones and ultrabook computers, the Company's management expects its customer orders will continue to be volatile with increasing pressure to reduce unit sales price. As a result, the Company's gross profit will also be under substantial pressure in 2013. Furthermore, if the customers, particularly the major LCM customers of the Company continue to experience a decline in the demand for the Company's products as a result of the prevailing economic environment and other factors, including the Company's unwillingness to continue capital investment in technology platforms that cannot produce steady income streams, the electronic manufacturing services, or EMS, that the Company may also continue to face certain risks including, but not limited to, the appreciation of renminbi, inflation in China, customers and suppliers' inability to meet their contractual obligations, financial difficulties resulting in customers and suppliers' illiquidity and global political events and actions, including war and terrorism. These risks could affect the Company's sales, profit margin and loss of investments.

FIRST QUARTER RESULTS ANALYST CONFERENCE CALL AND WEBCAST

PAYMENT OF QUARTERLY DIVIDENDS FOR 2013

As announced on November 5, 2012, the Company has set the payment schedule of quarterly dividends for 2013. The dividend for Q2 2013 was paid on April 19, 2013. The following table updates the previously announced schedule for declaration and payment of quarterly dividends in 2013.

The Company hereby clarifies that its shareholders of record on March 31, 2013 and June 30, 2013, a Sunday, will be identical to its shareholders of record at the close of business on March 28, 2013 and June 28, 2013 respectively, being the immediately preceding Friday.

| Quarterly Payment | Record Date | Payment Date | Dividend (per share) | Status |
|----------------------|--------------------|--------------------------|-------------------------|--------|
| Q1 2013 | December 31, 2012 | January 18, 2013 | $0.15 | PAID |
| Q2 2013 | March 31, 2013 | April 19, 2013 | $0.15 | PAID |
| Q3 2013 | June 30, 2013 | before July 31, 2013 | $0.15 | |
| Q4 2013 | September 30, 2013 | before October 31, 2013 | $0.15 | |
| | | Total for Full Year 2013 | $0.60 | |

The Company's decision to continue dividend payments in 2013 does not necessarily mean that cash dividend payments will continue thereafter. Whether future dividends will be declared will depend upon Company's future growth and earnings, of which there can be no assurance, and the Company's cash flow needs for further expansion. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that cash dividends on the Company's common shares will be declared beyond those declared for 2013, what the amounts of such dividends will be or whether such dividends, once declared for a specific period, will continue for any future period, or at all.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS AND FACTORS THAT COULD CAUSE OUR SHARE PRICE TO DECLINE

Certain statements included in this press release and the subsequent conference call, other than statements of historical fact, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements generally can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "may", "will", "expect", "intend", "estimate", "anticipate", "plan", "seek" or "believe". These forward-looking statements, which are subject to risks, uncertainties, and assumptions, may include projections of our future financial performance based on our growth strategies and anticipated trends in our business. These statements are only predictions based on our current expectations about future events. There are important factors that could cause our actual results, level of activity, performance, or achievements to differ materially from the results, level of activities, performance, or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to, a deterioration of the markets for the Company's customers' products and the global economy as a whole, which could negatively impact the Company's revenue and the ability of the Company's customers to confirm prior orders or pay for the Company's products; the financial resources and credit rating of Company's customers under the current global recession; the effects that current credit and market conditions could have on the liquidity and financial condition of our customers and suppliers, including any impact on their ability to meet their contractual obligations; the sufficiency of the Company's cash position and other sources of liquidity to operate its business; the negative effects of increased competition pressure on the Company's revenues and margins; component quality or shortage, whether or not cause by customers change in specifications, delay in the Company's ability to take possession of land for development of additional production facilities, continued inflation and appreciation of the Renminbi against the US dollar; rising labor costs in China and changes in the labor supply and labor relations our ability to win additional government business. In particular, you should consider the risks outlined under the heading "Risk Factors" in our most recent Annual Report on Form 20-F and in our Current Report filed from time to time on Form 6-K. The Company's decision to continue dividend payments in 2013 does not necessarily mean that dividend payments will continue thereafter. Whether future dividends will be declared depend upon the Company's future growth and earnings, of which there can be no assurance, as well as the Company's cash flow needs for further expansion. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that cash dividends on the Company's common shares will be declared beyond those declared for 2013, what amount that dividends may be or whether such dividends, once declared for a specific period, will continue for any future period, or at all, Although we believe the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, level of activity, performance, or achievements. You should not rely upon forward-looking statements as predictions of future events. These forward-looking statements apply only as of the date of this press release and the subsequent investors conference call; as such, they should not be unduly relied upon as circumstances change. Except as required by law, we are not obligated, and we undertake no obligation, to release publicly any revisions to these forward-looking statements that might reflect events or circumstance occurring after the date of this release or those that might reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.
